

Repeating Defects

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 13.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office for National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people, and the need to ensure that the health care system is able to meet the needs of older people. The Department of Health (2000) has set out a strategy for the health care system to meet the needs of older people, and the Health Service Research Unit (2000) has set out a strategy for the health care system to meet the needs of older people.

The Health Service Research Unit (2000) has set out a strategy for the health care system to meet the needs of older people. The strategy is based on the following principles: (1) to ensure that the health care system is able to meet the needs of older people; (2) to ensure that the health care system is able to meet the needs of older people; (3) to ensure that the health care system is able to meet the needs of older people.
