Army intelligence operations are changing in divisions, corps, and above. Reorganization continues to provide multidiscipline intelligence collection and production. The changes outpace intelligence doctrine published in field manuals. This bulletin sets forth principles to follow until field manuals are ready. This manual, TRADOC Pamphlet TP 600-4 The Soldier's Blue Book: The Guide for Initial Entry Soldiers August 2019, is the guide for all Initial Entry Training (IET) Soldiers who join our Army Profession. It provides an introduction to being a Soldier and Trusted Army Professional, certified in character, competence, and commitment to the Army. The pamphlet introduces Soldiers to the Army Ethic, Values, Culture of Trust, History, Organizations, and Training. It provides information on pay, leave, Thrift Saving Plans (TSPs), and organizations that will be available to assist you and your Families. The Soldier's Blue Book is mandated reading and will be maintained and available during BCT/OSUT and AIT. This pamphlet applies to all active Army, U.S. Army Reserve, and the Army National Guard enlisted IET conducted at service schools, Army Training Centers, and other training activities under the control of Headquarters, TRADOC. Offers a look inside the U.S. Army's basic combat training from orientation to graduation. This publication supports the Army's revised enlisted and noncommissioned officer education system that focuses training on force standardization. It supports the training and enrichment Soldier's need to pursue and enhance their military careers. Specifically, it covers operations based individual tasks required of the specific Aviation military occupational specialty (MOS) in order to perform proficiently. Appendix A provides an aviation school recommended professional reading list. Appendix B provides a sample DA Form 5164-R (Hands-on Evaluation). Appendix C provides a sample DA Form 5165-R (Field Expedient Squad Book). Appendix D provides a noncommissioned officer career progression for Career Management Field 15, Aviation Operations. Soldiers will use the manual as a professional development and self-evaluation tool. Soldiers should attain such a level of proficiency in performing the tasks contained in this publication that their responses will become automatic whenever they are required to perform, even under the most stressful circumstances. All tasks in this guide are related to specific Career Management Field

(CMF) 15 duties and responsibilities. Reserve Soldiers in the Army National Guard and Army Reserve will use this publication in the same self-development and evaluation mode as their active duty counterparts. This manual applies to the Active Army, the Army National Guard/Army National Guard of the United States, and the U.S. Army Reserve unless otherwise stated. The proponent of this publication is Headquarters, United States Army Training and Doctrine Command (TRADOC). This publication is for skill level 1, 2, 3, and 4 soldiers holding military occupational specialty (MOS) 91T and for trainers and first-line supervisors. It contains standardized training objectives, in the form of task summaries, to train and evaluate soldiers on critical tasks that support unit missions during wartime. Trainers and first-line supervisors should ensure soldiers holding MOS/SL 91T1/2/3/4 have access to this publication. This manual applies to both Active and Reserve Component soldiers. This manual identifies the individual MOS training requirements for soldiers in MOS 91T. Commanders, trainers, and soldiers should use it to plan, conduct, and evaluate individual training in units. This manual is the primary MOS reference to support the self-development and training of every soldier. Use this manual with Soldier's Manuals of Common Tasks (STP 21-1-SMCT and STP 21-24-SMCT), Army Training and Evaluation Programs (ARTEPs), and FM 25-101, Battle Focused Training, to establish effective training plans and programs which integrate soldier, leader, and collective tasks. Released April 2020. This handbook is for leader training for operating in a mountainous environment. This is the first edition of this handbook, based on first-hand observations and a review of current and past Army doctrine and tactics, techniques, and procedures (TTP) by operational advisors from or attached to the Asymmetric Warfare Group (AWG). Recently, many additional Army references dealing with this subject have been created or updated, following more than 10 years of combat experience and identification of best practices in the mountains of Afghanistan. These documents address individual or squad-level tasks and concerns. In this handbook, AWG will address the principal gap of informing leaders and staff of the considerations necessary to plan, operate, fight, and win in mountainous terrain at the company level and above. Many charts, references, and examples from other Army publications are incorporated into this handbook where appropriate. The information contained in this handbook is a result of observations made by AWG unit members conducting operations in mountainous terrain worldwide, and a review of Army doctrine. The Army Mountain Warfare School, Northern Warfare Training Center, Ranger

Training Brigade, sister-services, and allied institutions provided additional insights. The observations in this handbook are Geographic Combatant Command (GCC) agnostic and adaptable to mountain operations throughout the world. Mountains present leaders and units with unique challenges that compound existing difficult combat realities. The adverse environmental conditions in the mountains can make basic tasks seem almost impossible. This soldier training publication (STP) is intended for soldiers holding MOS 27X, Skill Levels 1, 2, 3, and 4, their supervisors, trainers, and commanders. It contains a MOS Training Plan providing information needed to plan, conduct, and evaluate unit training, one of the most important jobs of military leaders. It includes standardized training objectives in the form of task summaries that can be used to train and evaluate soldiers on critical tasks supporting unit missions during wartime. Soldiers holding MOS 27X should have access to this publication. Trainers and first-line supervisors should actively plan for soldiers' access, making it available in work areas, unit learning centers, and unit libraries. However, it is not intended for an individual copy to be provided to each MOS holder. Tasks in this manual apply to both Active and Reserve Component soldiers. The proponent of this publication is HQ TRADOC. This soldier training publication (STP) identifies individual MOS training requirements for soldiers holding MOS 27X. Commanders, trainers, and soldiers should use it to plan, conduct, and evaluate individual training in units. The STP is the primary MOS reference for supporting self-development, evaluating MOS proficiency, and training of 27X soldiers. Commanders employ two primary methods to evaluate soldiers' proficiency:

- Commander's evaluation.
- Commander's evaluations are local tests or assessments of soldiers' performance of MOS-specific and common tasks critical to the unit mission. They may be conducted year-round.

- Common task test (CTT). CTTs are hands-on tests used to evaluate proficiency on common tasks. Alternate written tests are provided if equipment is not available for hands-on testing. This publication is the soldier's primary reference to prepare for a commander's evaluation of MOS-specific tasks. It contains task summaries for all critical tasks specific to the MOS and skill level (SL). Commanders and trainers will use this soldier's manual/trainer's guide (SM/TG) to plan and conduct training and commander's evaluations.

Chapter 2, Trainer's Guide, contains information needed to plan training requirements for this MOS. The trainer's guide

- Identifies subject areas in which soldiers must be trained.
- Identifies critical tasks for each subject area.
- Specifies where soldiers are initially trained on each task.
- Recommends how often each task should be trained to sustain proficiency. • Recommends a strategy for cross-training soldiers. • Recommends a strategy for training soldiers to perform higher-level tasks. Use this STP along with STP 21-1-SMCT (Soldier's Manual of Common Tasks, Skill Level 1), STP 21-24-SMCT (Soldier's Manual of Common Tasks, Skill Levels 2-4), Army training and evaluation programs (ARTEPs), FM 25-4 (How to Conduct Training Exercises), FM 25-5 (Training for Mobilization and War), FM 25-100 (Training the Force), and FM 25-101 (Battle-Focused Training) to establish effective training plans and programs that integrate soldier, leader, and collective tasks. This soldier training publication (STP) is intended for Soldiers holding MOS 88N, Skill Levels 1, 2, 3, and 4; and their supervisors, trainers, and commanders. It contains an MOS training plan that provides information needed to plan, conduct, and evaluate unit training, one of for the most important jobs of military leaders. It includes standardized training objectives in the form of task summaries that can be used to train and evaluate Soldiers on critical tasks supporting unit missions during wartime. Soldiers holding MOS 88N should have access to this publication. Trainers and first-line supervisors should actively plan for Soldier access, making it available in work areas, unit learning centers, and unit libraries. Tasks in this manual apply to the Active Army, the Army National Guard/Army National Guard of the United States, and the United States Army Reserve unless otherwise stated. The proponent of this publication is United States Training and Doctrine Command (TRADOC). Now included at the end of the book is a link for a web-based program, PDFs and MP3 sound files for each chapter. Over 400 pages ... LANGUAGE TRAINING The ability to speak a foreign language is a core unconventional warfare skill and is being incorporated throughout all phases of the qualification course. The students will receive their language assignment after the selection phase where they will receive a language starter kit that allows them to begin language training while waiting to return to Fort Bragg for Phase II. The 3rd Bn, 1st SWTG (A) is responsible for all language training at the USAJFKSWCS. The Special Operations Language Training (SOLT) is primarily a performance-oriented language course. Students are trained in one of ten core languages with enduring regional application and must show proficiency in speaking, listening and reading. A student receives language training throughout the Pipeline. In Phase IV, students attend an 8 or 14 week language blitz depending upon the language they are slotted in. The general purpose of the course is to provide each student with the ability to communicate in a foreign language. For successful completion of the course, the student must achieve at least a 1/1/1 or higher on the Defense Language Proficiency Test in two of the three graded areas; speaking, listening and reading. unless otherwise stated. The proponent of this publication is the Army Training and Doctrinal Command. The research goal was to optimize Army-Navy/Portable Special Search (AN/PSS)-14 mine detector operator training duration and content. Results from training observations and analysis of Soldiers learning progression curves indicated that AN/PSS-14 operators who certified through the course were not adequately skilled. Results also showed that the operators learned little with regard to ground-penetrating radar (GPR) use and consequently were not confident in discriminating mines and clutter. The authors recommended a better understanding of GPR functionality and the teaching of target discrimination. Additional time needs to be spent on learning how to develop the spatial patterns (footprints) that different objects produce through metal detection and GPR signals. Training sessions need to be standardized and structured into the crawl-walk-run format with more "hands-on" experience. The Sweep Monitoring System needs to be used more fully. Instructors need to better provide prompt, consistent, and frequent performance feedback. We recommend more stringent quality control of mine simulants, controlled clutter in the mine lanes, burying of the test piece, and multiple grading standards (probability of detection, target discrimination, time standard) that are consistent and more accurate. Recommendations were integrated into a new program of instruction. HANDBOOK 11-203, VOLUME 2 Flying Operations Weather for Aircrews -Products and Services 20 January 2016 This handbook familiarizes the aircrew member with weather services, charts, and codes. It serves as a text and informational guidance for flight training programs, all U.S. Air Force instrument refresher training, flight instruction programs, and various unit and individual flying training programs. It applies to all Army and Air Force (AF) units and personnel, including the Air Force Reserve Command (AFRC), and Air National Guard (ANG). This regulation also applies to the Active Army, the Army National Guard/Army National Guard of the United States, and the U.S. Army Reserve, unless otherwise stated. The information contained in this publication meets or exceeds the information contained in FM 1-230, dated 30 September 1982 which will be rescinded with the publication of this interservice publication. Support described may also be applied to aviation within the U.S. Army and its reserve components of the Army Reserve and the Army National Guard. It is issued to each instructor and student involved in undergraduate flight training programs as well as to each flying unit. This handbook, when used with related flight directives and publications, provides weather guidance for visual and instrument flight under most circumstances. The research goal was to optimize Army-Navy/Portable Special Search (AN/PSS)-14 mine detector operator training duration and content. Results from training observations and analysis of Soldiers learning progression curves indicated that AN/PSS-14 operators who certified through the course were not adequately skilled.
